CONCLUSION

In the present study, type I GIC as an adhesive liner in bonded amalgam restoration has shown comparable results to Panavia F 2.0 and varnish. Therefore, type I GIC can be considered an appropriate adhesive liner in bonded amalgam restorations to reduce microleakage, with its additive beneficial properties.

REFERENCES